GIRL'S LIFE ENDS IN THEATER FOYER

Miss Daisy McClean Dies While Blanche Bates's Company Is Playing at Imperial.

HEART DISEASE THE CAUSE.

Three Physicians Work in Vain, With the Audience and Actors in Ignorance of Their Futile Attempts.

Death came to Miss Daisy McClean of No. 453 Lechade avenue in the foyer of the Imperial Theater yesterday afternoon while Miss Blanche Bates and her company were producing the first act of "The Darling of the Gods" on the stage.

Neither the actors nor the large audience knew of the death of Miss McClean until the close of the act, and the play was not interrupted.

Miss McClean, accompanied by her sister, Miss Madge McClean, and Doctor Ewald Eckhardt, a dentist, of No. 257 South Jefferson avenue, were occupying seats in the parquet two rows from the stage. Just before the curtain was rung up she informed her sister that she feared an attack of her old trouble.

Miss McClean had suffered from heart trouble for several years and had been under the care of her brother, Doctor J. L. McClean, and Doctor R. C. Harris.

Employees of the theater assisted Miss Madge McClean and Doctor Eckhardt to carry Miss McClean to the foyer. Doctor Chambers, whose office is in the Imperial building, was summoned. Two physicians who were in the theater volunteered their services and they worked for thirty minutes to save her life.

Electric batteries were used, but to no effect. Miss McClean grew weaker with each minute and died just as an ambulance, which had been summoned, dashed up to the door.

Miss McClean was taken to the City Dispensary. Doctor Harrington pronounced life extinct and ordered the body taken to the morgue.

Doctor McClean, who had been notified, protested against the body's removal to the morgue. He was taken in charge by Undertaker Alexander. Doctor McClean, according to his sister, Miss Madge, had predicted a sudden death for his sister. Recently, however, she had been in better health. She was 23 years old.

"The Darling of the Gods" at the Imperial, was notified of the occurrence. She said that if it had taken place while the play was in progress, she would have discontinued the performance.

Miss McClean and her sister have kept house for the Christian Brothers, of the Carleton Dry Goods Company, and brother, since the death of their mother.

The arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

BEGIN THE ORGANIZATION OF GAELIC LEAGUE BRANCH.

First Meeting Causes Enthusiasm and Movement Will Be Taken Up in Earnest.

With a view of forming a branch of the Gaelic League in this city, a meeting of those interested in the movement was held last night in the main parlour of the Lindell Hotel. Matters relating to the progress of the league in other cities were discussed. There was much enthusiasm among the number who responded to the call of a committee.

Among those in attendance were: Frances Ward, John G. Lee, B. A. Carmody, Richard McElligott, Peter Mangan, Judge O'Neill Ryan, Brother Bonard of the Christian Brothers College, and Mrs. Nora Clouston.

It was announced that another meeting will be held at the Christian Brothers College next Sunday, at which a tangible organization will be formed. All who are interested in the work of the league are expected to attend the meeting.

The object of the league is the cultivation of Gaelic literature, music and art. In other cities the movement has taken hold well, and the promoters of the idea believe that a successful branch may be established here in a short time.

GLORY IN THE "BIG STICK"

Roosevelt's Appellation Perpetuated by Iowa Republicans.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 8.—The Republican State Central Committee is organizing what may become nation-wide in its political influence.

It is proposed to counteract the "big stick" appellation given to President Roosevelt by organizing the "Knights of the Big Stick," for parades and other campaign purposes.

The idea has been forwarded to national headquarters and will be taken up in many cities.

"JOSEPH THE ELOQUENT" GIVES HOURLY LECTURES AT JERUSALEM.

Shiek Joseph Audi of Jerusalem is director of the Church of the Holy Sepulchre in Jerusalem at the World's Fair. Shiek Audi is known in his own country as "Joseph the Eloquent."

In the World's Fair church a reproduction of his own church in Jerusalem Shiek Audi gives hourly lectures, interpreting the figurative language of the Bible in the customs and practices of his own people, and, though a native of Syria and speaking the Arabian tongue, he has lately become an adept with the English language.

His lectures are practical and simple. They are illustrated through the assistance of a half dozen Arabians, who demonstrate under his direction the salute, the greeting and the wedding ceremony of the Arabian, as well as many of the practices of the Arabian household.

His people are called the Indians of the Orient. Their home is in the deserts of Northern Syria, where they dwell in tents and follow the grass spots with their herds of cattle and horses. The direct descendants of Abraham, they are little removed in their manner of living to-day from the stage of civilization represented in the life of the old patriarch himself.

Visitors to Jerusalem at the World's Fair can hear Joseph Audi lecture without charge.

Known in Jerusalem as "Joseph the Eloquent."

FIFTY THOUSAND CITIZENS OF CHICAGO TAKE THE CITY BY STORM.

doring and paying for what he got, but it was an enthusiastic gathering, where the events of the day were discussed and the vestments of the World's Fair commented upon. The word was passed around immediately after the ceremonies at the Illinois building and the entire crowd marched in about 7:30 o'clock, wearing Chicago buttons. There were seven hundred ladies in the party, and the event was one of the most unique features of the day.

LARGE FAMILY CAUSES VISITOR MUCH TROUBLE.

Spends Most of His Time Finding Himself, His Wife or the Children.

One patriotic Chicago visitor, who was determined to see the city from his city, and in order to contribute to the occasion, brought down with him his entire family—wife, five children and mother-in-law, and he had his troubles.

Arriving in the city Friday evening, this man sent his family to bed early so they could be up in time to witness the great day. But, as head of the family, he determined to reconnoiter about the city and become wise to the situation for the great day. He left his hotel immediately after the youngsters had been tucked away in bed, promenade about the streets for some time, and when he departed, he returned to his hotel, had lost his bearings, forgotten the name of the hotel and did not get in till after daylight.

His wife, hearing of the woes of the St. Louis highwayman, became alarmed, as her husband never remained away from home at night before, and was about ready to call in the police when the delinquent husband walked into the hotel. Tears were quickly wiped away and preparations hurriedly made to take part in the celebration. All boarded a car for the Fair grounds, but in getting off the car

POPE CREDITOR OF WAGGAMAN

List of 650 Unsecured Loans Filed in Court.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Pope Pius X is numbered among the creditors of Thomas E. Waggaman, in the toils of whose intricate financing hundreds of Catholics have been caught and millions of dollars involved. In the schedule of 650 unsecured creditors filed with the court yesterday is an item, "His Holiness Pope Pius, $500 contracted August 8, 1904. Check No. 26,081, not paid."

For what reason Mr. Waggaman sent this check for $500 to the Pope cannot be learned. Other creditors in the schedule are the president and directors of the Georgetown University, $100,000; the Catholic University of America, $55,000. Among the secured creditors are the

J. $10,000 each; James Cardinal Gibbons, $25,000; the Catholic University of America, $55,000; Bishop Donahue for the diocesan debt of Wheeling, W. Va., $5,000; estate of Pedro Gonzalez, administrator of the diocese of Havana, $2,500; Mrs. Domodice Falcone, $12,000. There are a score of Catholic priests whose own money or the funds which they held for Catholic societies have been involved.

But for the most part the list includes the names of men and women who have made Mr. Waggaman the agent for the investment of sums of less than $1,000. In many cases this report represented the saving of many years.

CARED FOR BY A FOSTER MOTHER.

Baby in the World's Fair Incubator.

There is one little child at the Baby Incubators on the Pike in whom many St. Louis people are interested. Though born prematurely two months ago here in the city, the mother, a mere girl, is yet too ill to visit her baby, though consumed with longing to do so.

The little one, a girl with blue eyes and golden hair, weighs but a trifle more than two pounds, and were it not for the succor of her wonderful foster mother—the incubator in which she lives—would long since have been but a memory.

She looks like a little waxen image, as she lies stretched upon her tiny bed of down, but both physicians and nurses are sanguine that her life will be saved by the scientific invention that regulates the temperature according to the patient's condition, when a normal temperature would be fatal.

One Million Dollars Have Been Spent to Give Liquezone Free to the Sick.

When we purchased the rights to Liquezone, we decided to buy the first bottle and give it free to each sick one we learned of. We published the offer in nearly every newspaper in America, and 1,800,000 people have accepted it. In one year it has cost us over one million dollars to announce and fulfill the offer.

Don't you realize that a product must have wonderful merit to make such an offer possible? We have never asked a soul to buy Liquezone. We have published no testimonials, no physician's endorsement. We have simply asked the sick to try it—try it at our expense. And that is all we ask you, if you need it.

Kills Inside Germs.
Liquezone is not made by compounding drugs, nor is there alcohol in it. Its virtues are derived solely from gas—largely oxygen gas—by a process requiring immense apparatus and 14 days' time. This process has, for more than 20 years, been the constant subject of scientific and chemical research.

The result is a liquid that does what oxygen does. It is a nerve food and blood food—the most helpful thing in the world to you. Its effects are exhilarating, vitalizing, purifying. Yet it is a germicide so certain that we publish on every bottle an offer of $1,000 for a disease germ that it cannot kill. The reason is that germs are vegetables; and Liquezone—like air—is composed of oxygen—is deadly to vegetable matter. There lies the great value of Liquezone. It is the only way known to kill germs in the body without killing the tissues too. Any drug that kills germs is a poison, and it cannot be taken internally. Medicine is almost helpless in any germ disease. It is this fact that gives Liquezone its worth to humanity. And that worth is so great that, after testing the product for two years, through physicians and hospitals, we paid $100,000 for the American rights.

Germ Diseases.
These are the known germ diseases. All that medicine can do for these troubles is to help Nature overcome the germs, and such results are indirect and uncertain. Liquezone attacks the germs, wherever they are. And when the germs which cause a disease are destroyed, the disease must end, and forever. That is inevitable.

CUT OUT THIS COUPON
For this offer may not appear again. Cut out the black and mail it to the Liquid Oxygen Co., 424-426 Wabash ave., Chicago.

My disease is..... I have never tried Liquezone, but if you will supply me a 50c bottle free I will take it.

Give full address—write plainly.

Any physician or hospital not yet using Liquezone will be gladly supplied for a test.
